HASSETTS

BAKING IN IRELAND
since 1984

Hassett's craft bakery is famous for creating handmade cakes, biscuits & crackers with tender loving care using only pure Irish creamery butter sourced locally in Ireland.

Master baker Michael Hassett has been baking delicious artisan craft confectionery and breads in Cork, Ireland, since 1984.

The Hassett's range has been inspired by Michael's extensive European travels as a chef in the early 1980s.

Enjoy passion & indulgence in every bite.

WHITE LABELLING

Hassetts, who are a trusted brand in the confectionary sector, have the experience and production facilities to produce own brand label ranges for large multinationals and small businesses alike.

Led by a team of experienced and skilled international bakers, Hassetts have in-depth knowledge on how to develop recipes, right through to producing and packaging the end product in both high and small volumes.

RACHEL H'S OUR TERTIARY BRAND

There have been many changes over the years, but our philosophy remains the same. Hassetts continue to have a strong emphasis on product development and innovation while maintaining the core value of producing high quality handcrafted confectionary products.

Rachel H's, our tertiary brand is made up of a selection of frozen and chilled desserts along with a range of crackers and biscuits.

It is considered in the bakery as our new baby. The opportunity to supply Lidl Ireland with some of the range in this brand nationwide has been a fantastic partnership for us.

A top-down view of various luxury biscuits and cookies. Some are on a silver wire rack, while others are scattered on a dark wooden surface dusted with white powder. The biscuits include plain yellow scalloped-edge ones, chocolate-glazed ones with swirls, and chocolate ones with a purple star-shaped decoration. A wooden rolling pin is partially visible at the top.

A wooden cutting board is arranged with several items. In the top left, a clear plastic bowl contains a thick, yellowish-orange hummus, topped with a dark, chunky sauce and chickpeas. To the right of the bowl is a small cluster of olives, including green and black ones. In the center, a row of rectangular crackers is laid out, featuring different textures and colors, including one with dark seeds. In the bottom right, a block of yellow cheese is partially cut, with a slice resting on a knife. A single red tomato is positioned in the bottom left corner. The entire scene is set against a dark, textured wooden background.
